

Bridges To Life

*Healing Crime Victims. Rehabilitating Offenders.
Making Our Communities Safer.*

Who We Are

Bridges To Life (BTL) is a faith-based, restorative justice program for incarcerated men and women that reduces recidivism among program graduates and helps make our communities safer. BTL accomplishes this mission by utilizing a unique 14-week curriculum centered on victim impact and facilitated by volunteers. Over 66,000 offenders have graduated from the BTL program since inception, with the help of more than 3,200 volunteers. Bridges To Life has been conducted in over 200 facilities, and its curriculum has been used in 16 states and 7 foreign countries.

In 2022, the Bridges To Life program will be conducted in over 120 prisons and alternative facilities, graduating more than 8,000 participants from the program.

Why We're Needed

The goal of the BTL program is to effect a transformation in the minds and hearts of offenders so that, once released, they will not return to their former life of crime. This reduction in recidivism has significant economic and societal impact, saving taxpayer dollars and making our communities safer. The cost to the taxpayer to incarcerate an offender in a Texas prison over the length of the average sentence is approximately $105,000, and that is without the collateral costs of judicial process prior to incarceration.

The cost of the Bridges To Life program in 2021 was just $190 per graduate.

What We've Accomplished

The BTL program has proven to reduce recidivism, which is the rate at which released offenders return to prison. A 2020 National Police Foundation independent research study compared the recidivism rates of a group of parolees who had taken the BTL program during their incarceration with those who had not. Participation in the BTL program decreased the odds of recidivism by 30%. Most significantly, only 1.4% of BTL parolees were re-incarcerated for a violent crime, compared to 3.7% of the non-BTL group. This equates to a 62% reduction in those returning to prison for a violent crime. Furthermore, the most recent recidivism studies of BTL graduates compiled with the assistance of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice reveal that:

86% of BTL graduates do not return to prison within three years after release!

How You Can Help

BTL is always in need of dedicated volunteers to assist with the program, and all necessary training is provided. As we continue to expand our reach both within and beyond Texas, your financial support is also needed for BTL's ongoing impact and success.
